

Additional Notes

- The instructors appearing on this website and their descriptions are entirely fictional. The images used for the instructor portraits were obtained from “unsplash.com”, a website that describes itself as “The internet’s source of freely usable images”. I chose not to attempt to use the photos and descriptions of Let’s Move Studio’s real instructors because the staff is often changing and I would have had to get in contact with many individuals to obtain their permission.
- The class schedule and prices are fictional. I did this to simplify the design of the website and make it logical and easy to understand.
- The image of a studio on the web page “about-us.html” is not an actual photo of Let’s Move Studio.
